News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau.
The Times-Dispatch.
150 Hull Street.

Phone Madison 115.
Savannah Bureau.
The Savannah Bureau Co.
The Savannah Bureau Co. is conducting the series of revival meetings being held in the Porter Street Presbyterian Church, is attracting crowds that tax the capacity of the building, and those who come never leave without being deeply moved by what the noted evangelist has to say. Mr. McElroy talks to the point in but few words, but words that reach the hearts of his hearers.

"The Holy Problem." Dr. McElroy's subject last night, drew a large audience of converts and would perhaps have attracted more had it not been Saturday night. In addition to the regular morning and evening services to-day, Dr. McElroy has consented to preach a special sermon to the young people of South Richmond at 8:30 this afternoon. The subject of his discourse will be "The Gospel Message," and it promises to hold interest for every young man.

At 11 A. M. the evangelist will preach on "The Modern Land of Promise," and at 8:30 on "The Future of the World."

Following is the list of subjects for the rest of the week's work.

Sund. to Mon. night, "The Family Solidarity for Heaven." Wednesday night, "The Devil's Power and the Gospel Answer." Thursday night, "The Holy Problem."

All these meetings will begin promptly at 8:00 P. M., as the choir is rendering interesting programs of music. Every one interested is invited to attend.

Other Services.
Rev. J. M. Boyd will preach twice to-day at the West End Church. Morning subject, "Greater Than Solomon," night subject, "Shiloh." Epworth League at 7:45 P. M.

Rev. W. G. Burch will conduct both services to-day at the Abyssinian Methodist Church. In the morning he will preach on "The Law of Healing and Healing." At night his subject will be "Favor Thyself." There will be special music at both services.

School Ready for Next Term.
Contractor Jordan has promised, if no unforeseen hindrances arise, to have the new public school at Millthorpe ready for the opening of the fall term. This announcement has brought pleasure not only to the members of the school board and the teachers, but to the parents.

This building, the latest to be constructed in the county, will be built with all the most recent improvements in school architecture and hygiene, and will offer the pupils enrolled there the most comfortable and healthful surroundings possible.

Claims to Be Paid.
Just as Thomas Meekins, of 11 West Twelfth Street, a negro of unquestionable integrity, was about to sit down to a meal last night, he was interrupted by a day of work, Jeremiah Byrd, a somewhat racy and cavalier boarder in Tom's home, rose up and threatened to skin his landlord alive. Meekins remonstrated.

"I'll kill you and bury you in the cellar like the last nigger I killed," said Jeremiah, reaching for an axe that was handy.

Tom didn't wait to remonstrate more, but left the house with the speed of a two-year-old. His pants did not slacken until he pulled up in the police station somewhat out of breath and with his eyes as big as saucers.

"For God's sake, captain," he pleaded, "come and 'rest that nigger at my house."

He'd rather kill me than share of you born. I'll pay the cost."

Captain Wright managed to get the story out of Tom with the natural addition. Tom swore the axe was just grazed his head as he fled the house.

Two officers were dispatched to bring the stubborn negro Jeremiah to the station where he remained overnight. Jere seemed rather full of the good things of this life and did not seem to regret his flight, but the attempt to kill his landlord. The police place little credence in the boast of Jere, and he is being held in the station until he can be taken to the county jail.

Much Street Work Ahead.

There will be no time lost by the Street Committee in disposing of the $30,000 recently appropriated by the Council for use on the streets of South Richmond. This appropriation, large though it is, is more than was appropriated for streets by the city of Manchester in the five years following its incorporation, and will hardly serve to do more than curb and gutter the most of the South Richmond streets. No attention can be paid to the roadbeds and street paving until water and gas mains are laid all over the ward, which will be undertaken in the near future.

Contracts have already been solicited by the Street Committee for the curbing and guttering of Fifth Street from Peter to Stockton; curbing Seventh Street from Peter to Blairbridge curbing one side of the pike from Twelfth to Main Streets, and the pike from Main to the railroad, curbing and guttering of the entire length of McDonough and Second Streets, and the same work on a part of Blairbridge Street.

If the plans entertained by the street department can be carried out the new South side will present quite a different appearance when the year is out from old Manchester, with its muddy, miserable thoroughfares.

Politics in Southside.
Between the activity of the different candidates in the senatorial contest and the new launched campaign of the county officers, the county officers are taking a decidedly prominent place in the thoughts of the Southsiders. The local leaders are beginning to line the voters in order for the support of Martin and Swanson, and these men seem to be doing their best to have the excellent prospects of carrying the South side with a rush.

It would be difficult to say whether the six-cornered race for county treasurer or the race between Judge Gregory and Haskins Hobson for Commonwealth's attorney is arousing the keenest interest among the Southside voters.

It is a pretty prospect that the race for treasurer will finally narrow down to two men, but no one can really tell what will be the outcome of this struggle.

Both Judge Gregory and his opponent, Haskins Hobson, while the best of friends, say they will fight to the finish, and each appears to have his following among the Southside voters.

Crowd Fire Fighters.
Persons acquainted with the size and capacity of the old engine house at the corner of Tenth and Hull Streets are wondering why the new fire engine house, which is now being constructed, is so crowded. It is evident that the crowd fire fighters, who after the war will constitute the roll of Engine Company No. 12, will be rather crowded on the second floor. The new engine house, however, has little iron beds to be placed up there, and that is where they will all sleep until the new engine house at Tenth and Blairbridge streets is completed.

News of Courts.
In Police Court, Part 1, John L. Shaver, forty-seven years old, was yesterday morning sent to jail for thirty days by Justice Maunier for being drunk and disorderly. That'll let the booze get out of his system," said his Honor.

The most strenuous work of this light term in school for this term is in the case of the most Part 2, beginning to-morrow. While there is nothing but chancery cases on the docket for to-morrow morning, there are several long suits to be heard during the rest of the week. Justice Wells will be in Judge Ingram's court on next Friday.

Carrying out his assertion Friday morning in the preliminary hearing of the preliminary cases against the Standard Oil Company, the Richmond Oil Company and the National Oil Company, Judge Gregory, Commonwealth's attorney, is writing a batch of warrants that are to be served on the three accused companies Monday.

The writing of these warrants is somewhat of an undertaking, as there are estimated to be about twelve against each company. Judge Gregory held a short conference yesterday morning with Magistrate Chestnut, presumably in connection with the oil charges.

Several Losses Reported.
S. H. Lowery, of 23 West Seventh Street, is wondering to-day whether he lost his pocketbook, containing $20, whether some night-thief individual relieved him of the said coin. The case has been reported to the police.

Mr. Lowery figures that he must have lost the money on Hull Street, as he remembers seeing a man with a pocketbook in A. L. Adams' office on Hull Street.

J. B. Johns, of Swansboro, has reported to the police that he has lost a pocketbook from his stable on last Friday night. Nothing has been seen of the animal since that time.

Deputy-Sergeant Spangere has issued notice that his brown and tan collie dog is missing.

Made a Social.
Ruth did not interfere with the lawn party last Friday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Cole, of Millthorpe, as the entertainment was promptly converted into a social. There was a fine musical program, and delicious refreshments.

Personal and General.
J. T. Bethel, a well known business man of South Richmond, and his brother, who has recently returned to the city to live, have bought a grocery store on North Third Street, Richmond, and will enter business soon.

She leaves her husband and four children, three daughters—Alice, Estelle, Minnie and Ruth West, and one son, Robert West. Also a brother, Charles Roberts, of South Richmond, and a sister, Mrs. Cora Hutchins, of Richmond.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Ore Plant Dynamited.
Cleveland, O., March 25.—It is reported that the new $1,000,000 ore handling plant of the Erie Railroad at North Randall, a suburb of this city, was blown up by dynamite to-night, and that bloodhounds have been placed on the scene of the vandals.

Negro Woman Robbed.
Alice Wormley, colored, of 2 East Bacon Street, made complaint last night that she had been knocked down and robbed. She described her assailant as a big negro, and stated that he took $4 from her.

Premier in New Cabinet of Diaz is de la Barra

and probably bring about extreme peril.

The new Cabinet, which is to be formed to-night or to-morrow, is certain to be progressive and devoid of objectionable ministers. President Diaz, in a message to Congress next week, will announce the government's purposes, and there is every reason to believe that these will be such as to impress the people with the advance of Democratic principles on a sincere basis.

The program will include electoral reform, election by states of Governors, and reformation of the powers of judges and politicians. There will be no surrender to armed revolutionists, but the program will form an appeal to well intentioned citizens.

There is a good chance of the avoidance of civil war by the general public accepting the intention of the government to advance in keeping with awakened public opinion. Minister Limantour to-day expressed the hope and belief that all difficulties will soon be solved to the satisfaction of patriotic citizens. He said that the administration is prepared to take such measures and implant such reforms as will satisfy the best public opinion, and that, while meeting force with force, it will leave nothing undone in the present circumstances to unite all good Mexicans.

Story is Exploded.
Washington, D. C., March 25.—The State Department to-day received from Consul Edwards at Juarez a dispatch exploding the story that four Mexicans had been summarily executed by Mexican Federal troops.

The War Department also received dispatches which show that there was no firing upon American troops by either Federals or insurgents. The administration is not disposed to make any comment on the changes proposed in the Mexican Cabinet. The officials regard the news as affecting only the relations of Mexico to herself, and with these it is stated this government has no concern.

The administration officials, to use a military phrase, are "marking time" in expectation of the result of the Cabinet changes. The army officers on the border report daily, and to-day's reports indicate less activity than on any occasion since the patrol was dispatched.

IN MEMORIAM

ETODDARD—In sad but loving remembrance of our husband and father, who died five years ago yesterday, March 25, 1906.

In beautiful Oakwood, sweetly sleeping. Where the flowers gently wave, Lies the one we love so dearly. In his lonely and silent grave. Not now, but in the coming years, We'll read the meaning of our tears. And then up there we'll understand. BY HIS WIFE AND DAUGHTERS.

STEGGER—In loving remembrance of our dear brother, HENRY JULIAN STEGGER, who died at the age of six years ago to-day, March 26, 1905.

In the far away distant graveyard, Where the trees their branches gently wave, Lies my only devoted brother, In the cold and silent grave.

You are gone, but not forgotten; For as long as there is life and memory, I will always think of thee.

Friends may think I soon forgot thee. And my wounded heart be healed; But they little know the truth. That's in my heart concealed.

Yet again I hope to meet him. When the day of life is fled. And in heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed. BY DEVOTED SISTER EDNA.

VINCENT—In loving remembrance of our dear brother, VINCENT, who died on Good Friday, March 25, 1911, after a year ago yesterday. Was a kind and loving wife and mother. Gone, but not forgotten. BY HUSBAND AND SONS.
